This catalogue is issued temporarily pending the making up of new cuts, designs and costs of goods and we will appreciate your sending us your name and address if you desire one of the new catalogues when issued in fall of 1915.

When other manufacturers speak of 12 oz. Duck be sure that they mean 12 oz. to the 29" width, as in most cases our 10 oz. Duck is equal to or heavier than ordinary 12 oz. Duck used by others.

Special discounts are made to dealers.

No. 129—HOUSE FROM PHOTOGRAPH

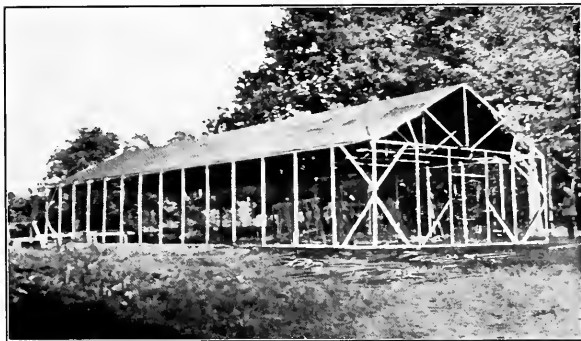

This house has six foot side walls; size 18x21, contains three rooms. One room 8x10', one room 10x10' and one room 11x18'. This house has ten windows and two doors; both doors adjustable to galvanized iron wire mosquito netting over which the canvas ducking can be attached in a few minutes. This cut made from photograph taken after the house had been in use all summer by a banker and his family. You will note the ladies looking through the wire screen door. This house folds up in trunk 40" long.

No. 253-A—FRAME WORK MOVING PICTURE HOUSE

Frame work, showing five men standing ten feet above the ground in our construction Frame No. 253, Moving Picture House, showing how rigid the frame before the roof and side walls are put on. This house is one of the largest Folding Houses ever erected. Is 28' wide by 80' long, side walls 10' high, height of gable 17', seating capacity 500 persons, allowing space for operating room, stage and aisles. This picture taken from photograph Oct. 1st, 1914.

No. 253-B—MOVING PICTURE HOUSE

Frame work with waterproof roof covering put on and in position. This view taken from photograph also shows ten foot studs before center braces are put in. This view also shows how easy the house may be erected and how it looks during construction.

All the tools required are a very small monkey wrench or a pair of plyers and a screw driver and one-half dozen men can easily erect this house in one day's time without having had any previous experience.

No. 253-C—MOVING PICTURE HOUSE

This photograph gives some idea of the size of the house. There are four men standing on five foot trusses upon a sixteen foot plank. This picture also shows the outside curtain down over the galvanized iron mosquito netting of the window in the gable. It also shows two double doors in the main entrance in front and there are two doors in the rear for exit and entrance to stage; all doors are fitted with locks and keys and the house is specially ringed for guy ropes in case they are desired.

No. 253-D—MOVING PICTURE HOUSE

Moving Picture House completed, showing the building ready for use. This house was erected Oct. 1st, 1914, and moving pictures were shown therein on several occasions until the house was taken down Nov. 1st and packed away. It was then sold and shipped to a party in Guatemala, South America, where it is now in use.

Color of house black, double filled heavy duck. Side walls separate and not waterproofed. The roof is one continuous piece, specially waterproofed with our secret process. Frame work is oak, iron braced. The house packs in crates 10' long, weight about 2000 lbs. Price $1050.00
